The story of the old Bug Scrab, Her Majesties Garden of Rose

I don't bare any of those BUGS in my garden any more,
they're destroying all my crop in only one night!
They feel, free so free to eat it all,
as darkness of the night hides them.

So now I say this is the end, I gonna get some poison for you!
Or I'll stay up all night, and you know that I found you,
when suddenly the light goes on!

And I wish you all the Best, when HER eyes fall on YOU-----
When you see her little fingers approaching you out of the dark,
as the light blinds you!
And you think, this is the end, when she grabs you!

Then you wake up, find yourself in her hand,
two deep oceans looking at you,
the most beautiful sight you've ever had,
when you realize, that two black holes are gazing at you.

You, you think this is the end and pee right in her hand..
this is a weekness in the familyyy,
II: Learn to live one more time, learn to live, one more time:!!

Before you realize, she shakes you off,
you fly through the air, land on your back
as she walks away, leaves you there,
puts her light on somebody else.

Learn to live, learn to live one more time,
start to come, start to get back on your feet again.

So I can't take none of your jokes'n'pick-ups'n'through-aways any more,
I feel like a bug in her Majesties garden of rose,
and I wish you all what you wish for me,
as we always meet twice! II: Learn to live....
And I wish you all what you wish for me, as we are always doing it to ourselves in Her Majesties Garden of Rose.
